

LIFESTYLE

SECTION B, PAGE 1, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 2012, THE NEWS-GAZETTE www.thenews-gazette.com DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTED LIFESTYLE ITEMS: FRIDAY, 1 P.M.

Among the displays and booths at the annual Mountain Day in Buena Vista were pumpkins (above) and intricately carved walking sticks. (Stephanie Mikels Blevins photos)

Celebrating Heritage

The Mountain Day festival Saturday once again drew a large crowd to downtown Buena Vista to celebrate the culture, history and beauty of the area. The focus of the event continued to be on the "lost arts" with demonstrations and displays, as well as arts and crafts. The scenes from the day included (clockwise from right) Erin Hutchinson quilting; Karla Rodgers working on stained glass; festival-goers picking up items and educational material from the Carilion booth; Catelyn Mohler learning how to make rope; the Mrs C's Pickers performing; and festival-goers checking out the booths on Magnolia Avenue. (Stephanie Mikels Blevins photos)

